Date	29 and 31 Mar 2023
Organizing Department	Institute Level
Number of Participants	Students

Description

With the objective to imbibe research methodology and innovation in students, a workshop was conducted by Prof. Dr. Varsha M. Pathak, Convener IIC, and Head of Research and Innovation of the institute. More than 35 students in two different sessions participated in this two day workshop.

On first day, she has enlightened the participating students regarding the importance of research methodology while implementing any innovative idea. She has also guided students about how to identify a problem, what is survey, data collection, sampling, research analysis. She suggested the students to pick up a live social issue and identify the problem, think about different solutions to solve that problem.

On second day, the students presented their ideas using the guidelines given on the first day.

Prof. Vikas Gite, Director KCIIL of KBC, North Maharashtra University examined the ideas and innovative products presented by the students. He has given important tips to convert the ideas into some fruitful business plan and eventually into a startup.

Students were encouraged and participated with enthusiasm.
